

THANKYOU-BANKER

Dear bankers,

Often people tend to forget how bankers need to be appreciated just like we appreciate everyone else we know. So here goes to them:

Thank you for being patient with every individual who never understood the tiniest of the easy things to be done.

Thank you for helping out the elderly people despite you having so much work to finish overall.

Thank you for making sure that all the work that needs to be done on time is finished and never delayed.

Thank you for hearing all the customers nagging and making sure that all the complaints are solved.

Thank you for working during lunch hours to finish off any work which the customer urgently requires.

Thank you for making sure that all calls made during the work hours at the banks are answered and not at all ignored.

Thank you for helping us to transfer money to our families in another country in a fast and convenient way.

Thank you for having the same soft tone while talking to your customers despite the annoying task of hearing them repeat the same queries all the time.

Thank you for sorting out any errors and bank issues on the same day itself.

Thank you for being patient and calm when talking to customers who are not willing to listen or have a harsh tone while speaking.

Thank you for always being there to help.

With respect,

A satisfied customer.

THANKYOU—BOSS

Dear Bosses,

A company won't be reaching its goal point successfully until they have a good boss who knows how to bring it up to that level. So here's to them all:

Thank you firstly for recruiting the selected candidate that would bring the organization to a much higher level.

Thank you for individually aspiring the candidates working to grow more in their skills.

Thank you for giving a chance to those employees who are slow and need time to develop certain skills.

Thank you for understanding the major problems and giving us time to settle down with our own issues.

Thank you for giving us bonuses and incentives that strive us to work harder and be satisfied with the job.

Thank you for taking us on trips to give us a relaxation from our tired work and to help us create a strong bond with each other.

Thank you for giving us an opportunity to attend seminars in order to grasp more knowledge, which can be beneficial for us.

Thank you for bringing a smile to our faces with the gifts you give us during occasions.

Thank you for involving us in development activities so that we can brush up our skills as well as have fun in learning them as well.

Thank you for treating us all equally and giving us the right to give our opinions in situations that comes up.

Thank you for being our mentor.

With respect,

A happy employee.
