Dear Sister,

Thank you for motivating me when I was low and needed someone.

Thank you for taking care of me, ironing my clothes, waking me up on time, always keeping me happy, etc.

Thank you for buying me gifts and making beautiful cards for me on my birthday, baking delicious cakes, inviting my friends, making my day so memorable.

Thank you for solving our fights and making up to me even when I at fault. Also, always being so sweet to me even when I mistreated you or did not give you any attention.

Thank you for taking my side and having my back in the worst of times, supporting me.

Thank you for making me realise my bad habits and mistakes, helping me improve them.

Thank you for keeping my likes and dislikes in your mind and taking up responsibilities.

Thank you for guiding me towards the right path, and for never stopping yourself from believing in me.

Thank you for being so kind hearted, loving and being the backbone of the family.

Thank you being my best friend, listening to me and keeping my secrets safe.

Thank you being the best sister in the world, no words can be enough to thank you for what you have done.

You deserve all the love and success.

With respect

A loving brother.
