

Dear Son,

Thank you for being one of the greatest gifts of my life. I cannot imagine a world without you. I still remember the day when you came into this world and the very first time that I held you in my arms. Thank you for giving me such wonderful memories that I will cherish forever. Every milestone that you achieved, you made me even prouder and you never let me down. Thank you for being my pride.

All your silly little mistakes have long been forgiven. Today as I see you become a successful individual, I cannot explain my happiness in words. So I thank you for being the person I always wanted you to become. You were a bundle of joy from your very first day in this world. Being and obedient, respectful, selfless and grateful child in the world today is not as easy as it may sound. But you have undoubtedly proven that you are all of those things and more.

Thank you for bringing me the ultimate happiness ever.

With love,

A Proud Dad.
