

Dear Social worker,

A person every single soul on the earth should thank!!!!

I want to thank all the social workers of this world who spare their lives just for the welfare of the people. They forget about their family and surroundings and work for the development of the country.

Thank you for helping all the people, who actually cannot afford to do things. You people have the greatest heart in the world.

Thank you for bearing with all the things that people speak without knowing your value. Rich people with money know only the value of the money but not the value of people like you.

Thank you for not considering the place or how people keep it; you people still tend to clean them with care.

None of us would have spent a little time to actually appreciate the work you people do and the amount of effort you put inincluding me.

I think this is the time to thank you people for the efforts and interest you put just for the welfare of the nation. Really thank you for all the work you have done. It is because of you people most of the places in India are clean and neat, and are not contaminated.

Thank you for all your efforts, surely we will try and do our part to help you people. If not that, at least we will surely appreciate the work done by you people and not ridicule.

Thank you for being so willing to work for the people.

Great salute to you people!!!!!!

With respect,

A Person who encourages your work.
